

PERSONNEL POLICY

The Parkersburg & Wood County Public Library is operated as a service to the public. You as an employee have an important role in the success of our Library. It is the way that you do your job and the manner by which we all work together that guarantee our Library will provide proper and exemplary library services and have a good reputation in the community.

Since 1913, West Virginia has recognized the employment-at-will doctrine. Unless otherwise provided by statute or regulation, each and every Library employee is an employee-at-will.

Employment-at-will means that each employee has the right to terminate their employment at any time, with or without good cause, and the Library has the right to terminate an individual's employment at any time, with or without good cause, subject only to the requirement that the grievance procedure set forth in "Employee Dissatisfaction" be observed.

These policies do not attempt to be all inclusive. They do set forth basic guidelines for personnel-related matters, but the Library reserves the right to handle various circumstances in a discretionary manner.

These policies are not an employment contract or a promise of specific treatment, but rather are a general reference to assist you. We hope all employees will have a long and successful employment with the Library. All employees should understand, however, that neither job security nor any particular level of benefits can be guaranteed. Both the Library and the employee are free to terminate the employment relationship at any time, with or without cause.

Please read these policies carefully. They are our official personnel guidelines, although they may not cover every situation. They may be amended from time to time as the Library determines the need for change.

Welcome to work!
